

Final Website Design Document Example

Scott Geiser

Purpose of the Website

The purpose of the website that I will be designing is to provide everyone in the Chippewa community (students, parents, teachers, administrators) with all sorts of information about my classroom. Communication and having instant access to information about my classroom is very important to a successful modern classroom. This website will provide access to information of homework, homework help, study guides, videos and open access to communication.

Needs Assessment

I have had countless conversations with students and teachers over the years and one thing is common. The need for quicker communication and homework help. Students love the idea of extra videos and worked out homework problems that can help guide their understanding and help them prepare for assessments.

Intended Audience

The target audience of this webpage is the community of Doylestown, specifically students, parents and administrators that are involved with my classroom.

Information Included and How it Meets the Goals of the Website

Anyone who browses this site will be able to find the following:

- A get to know you page about Mr. Geiser
- A page that has pictures and projects from the classroom
- A calendar that has an up to date display of homework assignments and due dates
- A page with PDFs of worked out homework assignments/Review Sheets/Videos
- A copy of my Syllabus and classroom management

This information provides a place where anyone involved in my classroom can hopefully have all of their questions answered.

Presentation/Organization

The home page will have the title of the class that I teach (Geometry) with a brief description of what we will be doing that year and my expectations of my students. I will also have a picture of myself with a brief description of who I am and why I teach. From there I will have different pages that will provide the information above.

Media and Rationale for Including It

There will be a variety of different media outlets on my website. I will use a google calendar as an up to date source for homework every night and a way to see when assessments will be in the future. I will also use the "One Note" app as a way to do homework problems on my surface pro and upload them as a PDF so students will be able to follow and check their work with mine. There will also be times when I flip the classroom and do a lecture video via "APOWERRREC" or another recording device where students can follow my work but also be able to listen as well as they follow along. I will have different graphics and hyperlinks that will go to different YouTube videos or other resources that will provide help for my students as well.

Color Scheme

I will have a professional color scheme that supports my school colors and mascot.

Outline

Main Page

- Picture of New School
- Picture of Myself and Classroom
- Class Description/Expectations
- About Me

What Was Homework?

- Google Calendar with what was homework and when Assessments are

Homework Help

- Worked out homework problems
- Videos for extra help
- Videos of myself "flipping" the classroom

Classroom

- Syllabus
- Expectations

